Dear New Carolina Graduate Student,

Welcome to Chapel Hill and The Graduate School Orientation!

On behalf of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill’s Graduate School, we want to personally welcome you to Carolina. We hope you had an enjoyable summer and are eager to begin your graduate studies at one of the nation’s leading research universities.

Today’s Orientation will introduce you to many of the people and resources on our campus that are available to you during your tenure as a graduate student here. We hope the information you receive this morning, and during the service fair this afternoon, will be valuable to you as you continue your academic career and make decisions important for your future at Carolina. You will also have the opportunity to hear from more seasoned graduate students about life on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus. Their insights and experiences will help you integrate smoothly into the Carolina community.

In addition, Orientation provides you an opportunity to meet and network with both new and established graduate students from a wide range of disciplines across campus. Our Orientation social will introduce you to the UNC-Chapel Hill Graduate Student Center, where many professional development activities and workshops are held throughout the year. Please check The Graduate School website (http://gradschool.unc.edu/student/profdev/) for more information on various upcoming workshops.

The Graduate School is home to dedicated and knowledgeable staff whose priorities are to assist you in successfully completing your graduate degree. Please contact them for information, guidance and assistance as necessary. Please also visit our online Graduate Student Resource Guide (http://gradschool.unc.edu/student/guide.html) as well as the Graduate School Handbook (http://handbook.unc.edu/). These online resources should address many questions you may have about campus, the Chapel Hill area, and general academic requirements, regulations and policies.

You will find a detailed outline of today’s Orientation activities in the following pages of this packet along with general campus and community information. Again, welcome to Carolina. You will now add your own important contributions to our University’s longstanding tradition of excellence in scholarship, research, teaching and public service. We look forward to working with you and we hope your time here is challenging and rewarding.

Sincerely,

Steven W. Matson, Ph.D.  Leslie S. Lerea, Ph.D.
Dean, The Graduate School  Associate Dean for Student Affairs, The Graduate School
Welcome Graduate Students,

I and all of the members of the Graduate and Professional Student Federation (GPSF) would like to welcome you to UNC. As a graduate or professional student you are automatically a member of GPSF and are eligible for all of its services including travel grants, event appropriations, social events, public service events, and academic support. In the coming weeks you will begin to receive via email our newsletter and notifications of events, programming, funding opportunities and more.

As a member of the UNC community you have chosen to be a committed academic scholar at a top tier research institution, have compassion for each other and those in the Chapel Hill community, and have the potential to be the future leaders of our nation and others. Take pride in your school and your role in it!

As a member of the graduate and professional student body you are also part of one of the most unique groups on campus. There are many roles that graduate or professional students may hold, including being mentors, teachers, students, employees, mothers, fathers, husbands, wives, partners, and international students. Our varied roles make us a rich and diverse group of individuals with many ways to support and learn from one another. Reach out, make new friends and colleagues. Graduate school can be socially isolating – take advantage of our network of graduate and professional students to expand your social circle and worldview.

The GPSF is an organization focused on the needs of graduate and professional students. We are here to advocate for improved campus and community resources, promote active participation in the university and community, collaborate with the university administration, faculty, staff, and undergraduate students to create policies that respond to the particular needs and interests of graduate and professional students, and provide opportunities to make social and intellectual connections across disciplines.

The GPSF offers many services to the graduate and professional student population such as funding travel grants and appropriations for student organization events. We also offer numerous social and public service events throughout the year. Furthermore, we have representation on almost every university committee to ensure that graduate and professional students are aware of events and services of interest.

In light of recent budget cuts in educational funding, the GPSF is dedicated to providing as much support to its members as possible. This year we have doubled available travel grants, expanded funding opportunities for club and group activities, and increased social event funding. We’re here to make your academic and social life at UNC memorable and rewarding.

Take advantage of the opportunities GPSF makes available to all graduate and professional students. Join a graduate organization or club, come to GPSF meetings, participate in social events. You may meet lifelong friends, find romance, or expand your network of colleagues. Good luck to you all in the coming years!

If you have any questions, please contact me at gpsf@unc.edu and to keep up to date on events and services visit our website at http://www.unc.edu gpsf.

Table 1
APPLES Service Learning Program: http://www.unc.edu/apples
APPLES is a student-led program that builds sustainable service-learning partnerships among students, faculty and communities in North Carolina and beyond. The APPLES program works with faculty, instructors and graduate students to integrate relevant community experiences in academic courses.

Carolina Center for Public Service: http://www.unc.edu/ccps/
The Carolina Center for Public Service strengthens the University's public service commitment by promoting scholarship and service that are responsive to the concerns of the state and contribute to the common good.

Pearce & Pearce: https://www.pearceandpearce.com/
Our sole purpose is to consult, to solicit and service student insurance programs. These insurance programs include plans for colleges and universities of any size, state consortiums, community and technical colleges, recreational departments, all sports, intercollegiate sports, K-12, camps, daycare and other medical and accident plans for students and youth sports. We have learned that to provide the highest level of service in the industry, we need to listen to our clients, ask for their input as to how we can do a better job and implement suggestions. We realize that each account is unique, and flexibility is critical to our success.

Table 3
Campus Health Services: http://studenthealth.unc.edu/
Campus Health Services promotes, restores and maintains the optimal health of students through a commitment to an inclusive environment and to excellent, affordable, confidential and compassionate service.

Table 4
Counseling and Wellness Services: http://caps.unc.edu/
Counseling and Wellness Services provides high-quality, confidential, compassionate and culturally competent service through a continuum of wellness promotion and psychological services to enhance the lives of students and promote social, personal and academic growth.
Table 5
Hill, Chesson & Woody: http://www.hcwconsultants.com/
Hill, Chesson & Woody has served the University student health insurance market since 1979. The firm provides a wide range of consulting, brokerage and administrative services.

Grant Source Library: http://research.unc.edu/offices/grantsource/index.htm
The GrantSource Library is a resource for UNC-Chapel Hill faculty, staff, postdoctoral scholars and graduate students seeking information on funding sources for independent research, collaborative projects, fellowships, program development and other scholarly activities. We provide assistance and instruction on the best use of our resources. The library is part of the Office of Information and Communications.

Scholarships and Student Aid Office: http://studentaid.unc.edu/
The mission of the Office of Scholarships and Student Aid is to ensure that qualified students have the opportunity to study at the University regardless of their ability to pay the full costs of attendance. The Office will strive to maximize available funds, exercise good stewardship of those funds and perform related research and program evaluation. The goals of such activities are to (1) assist in the recruitment and retention of students; (2) continually improve service to students; and (3) support long-range enrollment and campus planning goals.

Table 8
The Graduate School: http://gradschool.unc.edu/
Funding and Fellowship Office:
The Graduate School offers a variety of funding opportunities to assist graduate students in funding their graduate programs from admission through graduation. We provide information and support to students applying for external fellowships, as well as providing fellowships and other direct financial support to graduate students, which supplements what your department provides.

Table 9
The Graduate School: http://gradschool.unc.edu/
Graduate Student Academic and Professional Development:
The Graduate Student Professional Development Program seeks to aid students in their development by serving as a gateway to campus resources and providing direct services in the form of workshops, panel discussions, information sessions and hands-on experiences that enhance students’ graduate experience and prepare them for their post-student careers.

Diversity, Recruitment and Retention:
The Graduate School through its diversity, recruitment and retention initiatives collaborates with University graduate programs and offices regarding recruitment and retention of diverse graduate students. Additionally, the director works closely with both prospective and current students to provide information and programming that support entrance and the successful completion of graduate studies.
Table 10
The Graduate School: http://gradschool.unc.edu/
Enrolled Students and Residency for Tuition Purposes:
The Admissions and Enrolled Students Group serves as the administrative core for graduate students, assisting you from admissions through the awarding of your degree. The staff members process applications; serve as classifiers for N.C. residency for tuition purposes; review thesis and dissertation submissions; and provide information about policies, deadlines and a variety of other related academic forms and processes.

American Indian Center: http://americanindiancenter.unc.edu/
The mission of the American Indian Center is to bridge the richness of North Carolina's American Indian cultures with the strengths of Carolina's research, education and teaching. This will establish the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as a leading public university for American Indian scholarship and scholars and make native issues a permanent part of the intellectual life of the University.

Table 12
Graduate and Professional Student Federation (GPSF): http://studentorgs.unc.edu/gpsf/
The Graduate and Professional Student Federation is here for all UNC-Chapel Hill graduate and professional students. We are here to advocate for improved campus and community resources, promote active participation in the university, collaborate with the university administration, faculty, staff and undergraduate students to create policies that respond to the particular needs and interests of all graduate and professional students, and provide opportunities for graduate and professional students to make social and intellectual connections across disciplines.

Table 13
LGBTQ: http://lgbt.unc.edu/
The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer (LGBTQ) Center works to foster a safe inclusive environment for UNC-Chapel Hill students of all sexualities, gender identities and gender expressions. We are located in the Student Academic Services Building (SASB) North, Suite 3226. This building is located at the corner of Ridge Road and Manning Drive near the Dean E. Smith Center. Everyone is welcome!

Table 14
UNC-Chapel Hill Black Graduate and Professional Student Association: http://www.unc.edu/bgpsa/about_us.html
The Black Graduate & Professional Students Association ("BGPSA") exists to address the unique needs and concerns of minority graduate and professional students, and to promote diversity within the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill community. Through the use of consistent social interaction, multi-cultural programming and programming geared largely towards scholarship, career and community assistance, BGPSA fosters academic achievement, understanding of and respect for differences, and, ultimately, the development of future minority leadership.
Diversity and Multicultural Affairs: http://www.unc.edu/minorityaffairs/
Diversity and Multicultural Affairs provides University-wide leadership in developing and implementing initiatives that promote access to diversity within our student, faculty and staff communities. Diversity and Multicultural Affairs provides leadership, consultation and project management of policies, programs and services that promote diversity as a means of achieving educational excellence and enhancing the quality of life for all members of the UNC-Chapel Hill community.

Table 16
Department of Public Safety: http://www.dps.unc.edu/
The Public Safety Department (DPS) is an accredited agency dedicated to the welfare of the University community. Our mission is to support UNC-Chapel Hill's core mission of teaching, research and public service. In doing this, DPS develops partnerships within the University community that encourage problem solving and communication in order to identify and address public safety and transportation needs with professionalism and integrity.

Environment, Health and Safety Department: http://ehs.unc.edu/index.htm
Environment, Health and Safety supports the University's core mission of teaching, research and service by providing comprehensive environmental, health and safety services to the UNC-Chapel Hill community. This includes education through training and consultation, maintaining a safe environment through recognizing and controlling health and safety hazards, ensuring a process of regulatory compliance, and minimizing future potential liabilities.

Table 18
Housing and Residential Education: http://housing.unc.edu
Housing and Residential Education serves to provide campus housing to enhance the intellectual climate, inclusive environments that promote student learning and citizenship, and opportunities for involvement and leadership.

The Daily Tar Heel: http://www.lib.unc.edu/ncc/thi/dth.html
The Daily Tar Heel began publication in 1893, as The Tar Heel, with its editors explaining in the first issue that the "growing demands of the University have shown the need of a weekly paper." Over the next 36 years, the newspaper limited its coverage largely to the University and the surrounding "village" of Chapel Hill. In 1929 it changed its name to The Daily Tar Heel and began to expand its reporting and analysis of national and international affairs. Since then The Daily Tar Heel has often made news itself by drawing both widespread praise and criticism for its handling of various controversial subjects.

Table 20
The Orange County Visitors Bureau: http://www.visitchapelhill.org/
The mission of the Chapel Hill/Orange County Visitors Bureau is to develop and coordinate visitor services in Orange County and to implement marketing programs that will enhance the economic activity and quality of life in the community.
PlayMakers Repertory Company: http://www.playmakersrep.org/
PlayMakers Repertory Company is North Carolina’s premier non-profit professional theatre company. With its duel commitment to engage the greater Triangle community in an ongoing exploration of theatre and nurture succeeding generations of artists and audiences, PlayMakers performs a five-show season in the Center for Dramatic Art in Chapel Hill.

Ackland Art Museum: http://www.ackland.org/
The Ackland Art Museum is an academic unit of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and serves broad local, state and national constituencies. The Museum’s permanent collection consists of more than 16,000 works of art, featuring North Carolina’s premier collections of Asian art and works of art on paper (drawings, prints and photographs), as well as significant collections of European masterworks, 20th-century and contemporary art, African art and North Carolina pottery. The Ackland organizes more than a dozen special exhibitions a year.

FOCUS InterVarsity Christian Fellowship at UNC: http://focus.unc.edu/
"FOCUS is the Graduate Chapter of InterVarsity Christian Fellowship at UNC. We are a graduate student-led and supported Christian campus fellowship. Though we are a Christian group we are open to students of all religious (or non-religious) persuasions. Our purpose is to provide a community in which graduate and professional students can learn and develop spiritually and intellectually, interact socially, and discern their calling within the academy and the professions. Our desire is to see graduate and professional students flourish in their academic work, professional development and social relationships because we believe God cares about those things."

UNC Visitors’ Center: http://www.unc.edu/visitors/
At the UNC Visitors’ Center, visitors can obtain information on everything from history, to hotels, to restaurants, to campus events and more. An interactive touch screen can direct visitors to anywhere they need to go on campus. Visitors can also use a self-guided audio tour, complete with music and interesting facts about the landmarks and legends of UNC’s historic campus. Student-led tours of campus — highlighting the past, present and future Carolina — are available Monday through Friday.

Student Legal Services: http://www.unc.edu/student/orgs/sls
Carolina Student Legal Services Inc. is staffed by three licensed attorneys and one legal assistant. They are available to provide students with assistance in understanding the factors that should be considered when one seeks legal advice, to determine if a lawyer’s services are or are not necessary, and to provide appropriate representation and/or referral.

Table 26
The Learning Center Academic Success Program for Students with LD/ADHD: http://www.unc.edu/depts/lss/
The Academic Success Program, or ASP, is one of the many programs within the Learning Center. We provide accommodations and services for undergraduate, professional and graduate students who have a documented learning disability and/or attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (AD/HD). The staff determines legally mandated accommodations and collaborates with the Department of Disability Services in providing them. The staff also provides a variety of services to eligible students, including learning strategy sessions and coaching.
Table 27
The Writing Center: http://www.unc.edu/writingcenter/ or http://www.unc.edu/depts/wcweb/elac/
The Writing Center's graduate student consultants offer one-on-one feedback on any writing project, at any stage of the writing process; staff can also advise instructors about designing writing assignments and responding to student papers. The Center provides English Language and American culture services to all non-native speakers of English; services include writing groups, speaking groups, workshops and online videos.

Table 28
University Career Services: http://careers.unc.edu/
The mission of University Career Services (USC) is to provide progressive services and resources to help students choose and prepare for their careers, learn job search skills and find employment. UCS serves underclassmen, seniors, graduate students and alumni. Services include individual career advising; internship and employment assistance; workshops on job-seeking skills; resume mailing service to employers; on-campus interviewing; and online internship, job listings and occupational and employer information.

Table 29
University Libraries: http://www.lib.unc.edu/
The University Library supports inquiry and learning at the University and for the people of North Carolina. Library collections, services, staff and facilities further the University's mission. The library provides leadership in the development of scholarly communication systems and in the application of information technology to teaching, research and learning.

Table 30
Cashier's Office: http://cashiers.unc.edu/
The Cashier's Office bills tuition, fees and other campus-based charges to students. Electronic bills are issued around the 16th of each month and will be due the next month. Enrolled students will receive an email notification when their bills are available in the ConnectCarolina Student Center.

Table 31
UNC Athletics: http://www.unc.edu/athletics/index.htm
Athletics give the Carolina campus an energy found at no other school. Our successful varsity programs have some of the most loyal fans in the country, while our recreational programs give students and faculty a wide range of outlets beyond the classroom. Athletics are a Tar Heel tradition.

Table 32
Campus Recreation: http://campusrec.unc.edu/
Maintain a healthy lifestyle with fitness orientations, personal training and group fitness classes. Stay active with a variety of sport leagues and special events. Explore UNC-Chapel Hill’s outdoor education opportunities, challenge course program, climbing walls and expeditions. Get involved with more than 50 student-run instructional, recreational and competitive clubs.

UNC Student Stores: http://www.store.unc.edu/

UNC Student Stores is Carolina’s on-campus bookstore. Centrally located by the Pit, Student Stores is a convenient place to purchase books (text or otherwise), computers, clothing, gifts, snacks and much more. Inside the Bull's Head Bookshop you’ll find the Daily Grind, where you can grab a cup of coffee and relax between classes. Looking for postage? Student Stores has a U.S. postal contract station (which is essentially a mini post office) on the street level.

Buy Carolina! When you purchase from Student Stores, you are supporting your fellow students. Not only is Student Stores one of the largest on-campus employers of students, a portion of all purchases directly funds undergraduate scholarships and graduate fellowships at Carolina. Since 1955, Student Stores has contributed over $24 million to non-athletic scholarships and fellowships, and has established a $500,000 endowment.

The Daily Tar Heel
The Daily Tar Heel began publication in 1893, as The Tar Heel, with its editors explaining in the first issue that the "growing demands of the University have shown the need of a weekly paper." Over the next 36 years, the newspaper limited its coverage largely to the University and the surrounding "village" of Chapel Hill. In 1929 it changed its name to The Daily Tar Heel and began to expand its reporting and analysis of national and international affairs. Since then The Daily Tar Heel has often made news itself by drawing both widespread praise and criticism for its handling of various controversial subjects.

UNC-Chapel Hill School of Dentistry – Dental Faculty Practice
The UNC Dental Faculty Practice (DFP) is a component of the School of Dentistry, and its practitioners are School of Dentistry faculty members who contribute extensively to the School’s mission of excellence through teaching, patient care, research and service. DFP practitioners provide both general and specialized dental care for patients for any age; each individual patient’s oral health needs are determined after seeing a dental practitioner for a comprehensive diagnosis. At the Dental Faculty Practice, we never forget that the patient is the focus.

FedEx Global Education Center
The FedEx Global Education Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is unique among American colleges and universities in bringing together the three major components of international education: student and faculty services, academic instruction, and programs and research. Each of these functions is individually represented in the building, and they are bound together by a common gathering space to create global synergy and opportunities for interaction. This space is designed for intellectual and personal encounters to enrich mutual understanding and advance our knowledge of the world.

Student Stores
UNC Student Stores is Carolina’s on-campus bookstore. Centrally located by the Pit, Student Stores is a convenient place to purchase books (text or otherwise), computers, clothing, gifts, snacks and much more. Inside the Bull’s Head Bookshop you'll find the Daily Grind, where you can grab a cup of coffee and relax between classes. Looking for postage? Student Stores has a U.S. postal contract station (which is essentially a mini post office) on the street level.

Buy Carolina! When you purchase from Student Stores, you are supporting your fellow students. Not only is Student Stores one of the largest on-campus employers of students, a portion of all purchases directly funds undergraduate scholarships and graduate fellowships at Carolina. Since 1955, Student Stores has contributed over $24 million to non-athletic scholarships and fellowships, and has established a $500,000 endowment.
